"The Assembly" opened in royal style last evening. J. B. Jones as a presiding officer is strictly up-to-date and Chase Lane makes an excellent Sergeant-at-Arms. A fine lunch was a feature of the occasion.

Lieutenant Gracey of Troop M and a detail of 34 men of Torrey's regiment were left at Fort Russell to take charge of the remaining 300 head of horses now being purchased in Denver to complete the complement of mounts.

Captain Stoddard received instructions last evening to enlist his company up to the required number and report by the 2nd of July. Any man of good character, between the ages of 18 and 45, may enlist in the company nearest his place of residence.

A. Nelson is constantly replenishing his stock. Special or clearance sales are not his method. His prices are always at the lowest margin on his stock of hats, caps, underwear in various grades, overalls, jumpers, gloves and a general assortment of men's goods. Also a complete line of smokers' articles including a line of cigars and tobacco, equal to many wholesale houses. In fact he does a general jobbing business in this line and sells to the trade. In the line of novelties pocket cutlery and many handy and necessary articles, Nelson is hard to beat. Free employment office at his store Virginia street, Reno.

THE ORPHAN'S HOME SQUABBLE.

A Case for the Ormsby County Grand Jury.

During the past twenty-four hours several affidavits, relative to the Orphan's Home squabble have been sent to this office for publication emanating from both factions in the controversy. They were all declined, as all persons concerned in the affair are notified that there is no room in the Appeal for these affidavits, except at the uniform price of $1 per line.—Carson Appeal.

The affidavit mill at the Orphan's Home should be investigated by the Ormsby County Grand Jury. The Home is a State institution supported by the taxpayers, and as the Legislature is not in session it devolves upon the authorities of the county in which the Home is situated, to investigate the matter and, if possible, ascertain the real condition of affairs at the Home. The Carson News almost daily bristles with affidavits and counter affidavits from inmates and employees at the Home. Some of the affidavits vaguely proclaim to the public that they testified falsely on the witness stand. Not only have the inmates of the home, who are the wards of the State, but some of the employees at the institution also proclaimed themselves perjurers.

To an outsider who has no interest in the controversy between the employees at the Home, except the general one that those who are swearing falsely should be punished, it would seem to be the duty of the District Attorney or Judge of the District Court to call the attention of the Grand Jury to the matter. The authorities cannot afford to let the subject pass unnoticed.

Clean up the Back Yards and Alleys.

In view of the near approach of the Fourth of July and the prospective celebration in Reno, the usual word of caution regarding fire is not out of place. Many a town after a creditable celebration and while the people were enjoying the closing scenes of the days festivities, through the oversight or carelessness on the part of someone, has suffered seriously, or has been totally destroyed by fire. The backyards, alleys, etc., should be cleaned up; rubbish and manure piles near buildings removed and such other precautions against a stray firecracker taken as may be necessary. A stitch in time, etc., is a good rule to follow. A big fire in Reno now would be a disaster and by each property holder using a reasonable diligence, the danger can be greatly reduced.

A Suggestion.

The Ormsby County Board of Commissioners give notice that the regular meeting of the Board will be held on Saturday, July 2, and request all persons having bills, to file them on Friday, July 1st. Why wouldn't it be a good idea for the Washoe Commissioners to meet on the 2nd, also make the 2nd steamer day? The Fourth comes on the first Monday of the month and will be recognized as a holiday, consequently all business will be postponed until Tuesday or the following Monday. By arranging for Saturday to be steamer day in this instance, and for the Commissioners regular meeting, it will not materially change the order of things and will give the boys a few shakels to celebrate with on Independence Day.

The Twenty-Fifth Anniversary.

H. P. Kraus, the JOURNAL's encyclopedia of notable events in Nevada, says that next Wednesday night will be the twenty-fifth anniversary of the Van Bokkelen explosion at Virginia city by which some twelve or fourteen people lost their lives. The Comstock had arranged for a grand Fourth of July celebration, something over $3,000 having been subscribed. The terrible accident cast a gloom over the whole community and the anticipated Fourth of July festivities were abandoned to a day of grief and the bright decorations were entwined with black and white. It was a sad day for the Comstock and even at this late day, the circumstance recalls sad scenes to many old timers.

Prof. Bray's Address.

One of the features of yesterday's graduation exercises was the address delivered by Prof. John E. Bray of Reno. It was at once eloquent and humorous, and fairly bristled with suggestions of improvement in educational methods, showing that the speaker had devoted deep and earnest thought to his subject. His manner of delivery was as usual a happy one; for the Professor has the valued faculty of putting himself at once in touch with his audience, and the audience yesterday being a Virginia one, gave the speaker an unusually hearty reception.—Report.

Guggenheim Arrested.

L. Guggenheim, the defaulting Secretary of the Odd Fellows' Order was arrested Friday night on a warrant sworn out by George L. Hawks. The defendant appeared in the Justice Court yesterday afternoon for preliminary examination and was held to appear June 27th at 10 o'clock with bonds fixed at $1,500.

For the Goddess of Liberty and Floral Queen.

The result of the ballot last evening for the Goddess of Liberty stood as follows:

Miss L. Stream..... 180
Bessie Evans..... 119
Sadie Phillips..... 105
Maude Wheeler..... 78

According to the new city directory, which will be issued in a few days, Chicago now has a population of 1,893,000. This is an increase of 65,000 over the figures for 1897.

Royal makes the food pure, wholesome and delicious.

NEVADA INFANTRY BATTALION.

A Dark Horse for Major—D. M. Ryan Entitled to the Appointment on the Ground of Seniority.

D. M. Ryan, formerly Captain of Company A, N. N. G., and now Quartermaster on the regimental staff, although not an applicant for the position of Major of the Nevada infantry battalion now being organized, will accept that position if tendered him in the event that Colonel Lord accepts an appointment as paymaster. Captain Ryan has always been a popular officer in the Nevada National Guard, is thoroughly conversant with company and battalion drill and tactics, and outranks in seniority all other company officers of the National Guard except Captain Morrison of the Emmets.

Company A, expects to have sixty men enrolled before the close of the week and Captain Morrison is sanguine of recruiting his company up to the full quota before the order for mustering the infantry battalion into service is issued. The scheme of Carsonites to have the companies mustered in there in time to participate in the parade at the State Capital, will not materialize, as the several companies can be mustered in at the place where they are recruited without entailing any unnecessary delay, and it is not probable that the ranks will be recruited to a war-footing before July 10th.

Captain Stoddard of Company C, Reno Guard, has already tendered the services of that Company to the Governor, but it is probable that no company will be accepted as a whole until its ranks are recruited up to the full quota.

Company F of Carson has thirty men on its roll who are ready to enlist but it is safe to predict that the Comstock Companies will be the first to recruit their ranks up to the full quota required to maintain their company organization.—Virginia Chronicle.

Bryan on Immortality.

The following tribute to the soul's immortality by Wm. J. Bryan is part of an eulogy on the death of a friend. It is a gem, and is fit to adorn your scrap-book:

"If the Father desires to touch with divine power the cold and pulseless heart of the buried acorn, and make it burst forth from its prison walls, will he leave neglected the soul of man who was made in the image of his Creator? If he stoops to give to the rose bush, whose withered blossoms float upon the Autumn breeze, the sweet assurance of another Spring time, will He withhold the words of hope from the souls of men when the frosts of Winter come? If matter, mute and inanimate, though changed by the forces of nature into a multitude of forms, can never die, will the spirit of man suffer annihilation after it has paid a brief visit, like a royal guest, to this tenement of clay? Rather let us believe that He who in his apparent prodigality wastes not the rain drop, the blade of grass or the evening's sighing zephyr, but makes them all to carry out His eternal plans, has given immortality to the mortal, and gathered to Himself the generous spirit of our friend."

A Clever Trick.

It certainly looks like it, but there is really no trick about it. Anybody can take it who has lame back and weak kidneys, malaria or nervous troubles. We mean he can cure himself right away by taking Electric Bitters. This medicine tones up the whole system, acts as a stimulant to liver and kidneys, is a blood purifier and nerve tonic. It cures constipation, head ache, fainting spells, sleeplessness and melancholy. It is purely vegetable, a mild laxative, and restores the system to its natural vigor. Try Electric Bitters and be convinced that they are a miracle worker. Every bottle guaranteed. Only 50c a bottle at S. J. Hodgkinson's Drug Store.

Asthma, bronchitis, hoarseness and all diseases of the throat chest and lungs are surely cured by it. Call on S. J. Hodgkinson Druggist, and get a trial bottle. Regular size 50 cent and $1. The provision for coining the seigniorage was emasculated in conference. Both Gage and Dingley say it amounts to nothing. Will the Republicans in the campaign have the boldness to claim that the Republican Administration did something grand for silver?—Knight-Watchman.

GREEN BADGES OF COURAGE.

Sashes Worn by Army Surgeons and Their History.

A great many people do not know why army surgeons wear green sashes. It is not so much an insignia of rank as it is a protection to the wearer. According to the code of war, surgeons are never shot or taken prisoners. To deliberately shoot a surgeon while he is wearing his sash is considered a violation of the code, punishable by death.

Because of this provision surgeons of one army never refuse to look after the wounded of the other army if it is possible for them to do so. During the civil war it was often the case that after a battle the field hospitals would contain almost an equal number of men dressed in blue and gray. The Federal army had the best surgeons and the best stores, and a wounded Confederate considered himself in great luck if he was removed to a Federal hospital to be cared for by Federal surgeons and physicians.

But in the heat of battle a green sash is not much protection, and surgeons were often wounded or killed. But this did not keep the surgeons at the rear until the battle was over. They were often found in the thick of the fray, dressing wounds and sending the wounded to the rear. Theirs was a perilous as well as a noble duty, and they performed it well.—Omaha World-Herald.

The Coin Came Back.

"I have once or twice read how small the world was," said a young fellow, "and once or twice I have seen stories of the same kind I am going to tell. I confess I never believed them, but now I know better. Last summer, when in New York on my annual visit, I was struck with a sudden whim and scratched my initials on a 25 cent piece, cutting into the silver deep enough to make a lasting impression. I paid for a cigar in the Hoffman House with the coin and gazed myself with being foolish. I had forgotten all about the quarter when I entered a Carrollton car and gave a half dollar to the conductor. Imagine my surprise when he handed me in change the 25 cent piece I spent in the Hoffman House! I think I will keep the coin now and over more as a curiosity," and the speaker pulled the money from his pocket and showed it in verification of his story.—New Orleans Times-Democrat.

Youthful Marriages in Algeria. A census was taken lately in Algeria, and it was found that the youngest Arab married man was 12 years old and that there were very many boys who were married at 13 and 14, while some at 15 years of age had several wives. There is a youthful Algerian widower of 15 and a divorced husband of the same age. Girls are still more precocious and are sometimes married when only 11 years old, though 13 is the more usual age. There are 189 widows of 16 and 1,176 divorces of the same age.—London Sketch.

3. Bernard Shaw Says the Clamor About It Is All Nonsense.

In a letter to the editor of the London Chronicle G. Bernard Shaw writes:

I should have thought, now that we have an academy of letters, that it might rescue us from the gentlemen who occasionally write to you to explain how English should be written. Some time ago you let loose an unhappy creature to whom some competent person had incautiously pointed out a common blunder in the use of "and which."

Not understanding the matter, he began accusing every writer in whose works he could discover "and which" of writing bad English. With your permission, I have extinguished him, and he has not since been heard of. There was some excuse for that poor wretch, because there unquestionably is a wrong way of using "and which," but for the "split infinitive" pest there is no excuse at all. There is nothing whatever to mislead him except his own nature. If any man were to object to a split infinitive such as "I greatly regret," or a split subjunctive such as "I should greatly prefer," or a split imperative such as "come slowly on," what newspaper would waste an inch of space on his foolish ignorance? And yet this split infinitive nonsense is taken quite seriously by editors who are sufficiently good writers to repeatedly use it themselves.

The infinitive is a mood in which the position of the adverb cannot possibly produce ambiguity; consequently the order of the words is not a matter of grammar, but of style, of which the ear is the only arbiter. The ear often demands the split infinitive and will have it in spite of all the silly people who do not know what style means.

When these infinite insects are disposed of, you will no doubt be attacked in due course by the even more impudent impostors who, though they pronounce the word "color" so as to rhyme with "duller," and never hear it and never have heard it and never will hear it pronounced in any other way, from time to time pretend to be shocked when it is spelt without a "u." I trust you will always insist on these unances definitely stating whether they pronounce it or "honor" or "neighbor" or "favor" or "behavior" so as to rhyme with "our" or "poor," as the case may be, or whether they are merely bogus etymologists—century belated Johnsons.

In either case you will be justified in recommending them to the care of their relatives and suppressing their babblings.

And When Discharged Wanted a Certificate For Ability and Honesty.

"Fancy a fellow picking your pocket and asking for a 'character,'" said a business man the other day. "That's been my experience. I hired a young man about a month ago to solicit orders for me on commission, with $20 a week guarantee. As he turned nothing in after a fortnight I began to suspect that he was working for another firm and doing nothing to earn the $20, so I told him that if no order materialized by the end of the week he must not expect to continue in my employ. 'I made inquiries which convinced me that he was doing what I suspected, but I got no legal proof that he was taking my money on false pretenses. So when the week was up I was forced to pay him a third $20, making $60 in all, which, I felt sure, he had done little or nothing to earn. Before doing so I told him of my suspicions, which was foolish, as I met only with denials which I couldn't disprove, although in answer to the questions of the cross examination I put him through he made statements which I knew to be lies. 'In spite of my accusations he seemed to think that my paying him the final $20 was acknowledgment that I believed his denials, and after receiving the money he asked if I would give a certificate as to his ability and honesty in case he found it necessary to call upon me for one. I answered that I would at least sign nothing against him, for after paying him to no purpose money I could ill afford I didn't want to make an enemy of him, but advised him not to put me to the test.'"—New York Sun.

The Trans-Mississippi and International Congress is composed of delegates from every State and Territory West of the Mississippi river. The idea of this exposition originated in that Congress at its session at Omaha in 1895, and the project has become a National enterprise and the National Commission has been organized and is in active service, there being one commissioner for each of the several departments of the Government. Most of the Trans-Mississippi States are well along in the way of gathering exhibits from their respective States and many of them have made liberal appropriations, while others are preparing exhibits through private enterprise.

Vice-President H. B. Maxson of Reno, has made arrangements whereby he can get Nevada exhibits, shipped from any point in the State along the line of the C. P. R., to Omaha and return, and he requests all persons who wish the interests of the State advertised, to co-operate with the Exposition County Commissioner of his county, whose name is shown above, and prepare some product of his county and send it to the nearest point on the C. P. R. from which place it will be sent to Omaha and exhibited, and return to the same point at the close of the exposition, free of expense to the exhibitor. Full information should accompany everything sent for exhibition. Before sending anything to the line of the railroad a full description should be given. The Exposition Commissioner of the county, who in turn will notify the Vice-President, who will notify him what action to take, otherwise there might be many duplications. Apply to your County Representative for further information, and don't let this opportunity of advertising the resources of Nevada be lost.
